From the Principal

Earth Hour Schools Competition
At our assembly on Thursday, students from our school were presented with their prize for winning the earth Hour Schools Competition with their short film video entry, 'The Impact of Global Warming on Chickens'. Instigated by senior students Ella Clark, Blake Lovely and Alice Hawkins, the video was not only submitted to the competition, but uploaded to YouTube where it has been a resounding success with over 670 views.

Further to this the school’s Enviro Day will be held on Tuesday 12 May where a range of activities have been organised for students along with a one hour shut down of all non-essential power sources.

Congratulations to all students involved in our environment team.

St Andrews College Recognise Our High Achievers
At a dinner to be held at St Andrew’s College, in the grounds of Sydney University, two of our 2014 graduates will be recognised for their high achievement in the HSC. Jack Liell-Cock and Olina Parish will be guests of the Principal, Mr Wayne Erickson at the College’s annual celebration of academic excellence. The Chancellor of the University of Sydney, Ms Belinda Hutchinson AM will attend the dinner and present awards to the outstanding scholars.

Former Student Excels
Congratulations to former MSC student, Jess Jeffries who was selected by the Australian Defence Forces to represent Australia at the recent ANZAC service held at Villers-Bretonneux. Jess was the lone piper standing atop the tower as visiting dignitaries laid their respective wreaths during the ceremony.

Jess now moves on to again represent our nation at the Edinburgh Military Tattoo.

These two events will no doubt be a highlight of Jess’ musical and military careers and we pass on our congratulations to him.
Band Students Return
This week we welcomed back to school the 54 students and 2 teaching staff who participated in the recent tour to Italy and Austria. From all reports, the tour was an outstanding success with the highlight being the Centenary Anzac Concert on Friday 24 April 2015 held at the Orangerie Schönbrunn with an audience in excess of 600 people including Mr David Stuart, the Australian Ambassador to Austria.

A more detailed report is included in the band Committee report, later in this newsletter.

NAPLAN Equating Study
A group of approximately 60 of our students participated in the NAPLAN Literacy Equating Study at school today. This study is conducted annually to ‘road test’ questions of a similar nature to what will be in the NAPLAN tests that year. Student responses will be marked as samples by the NAPLAN markers and marking guidelines for the actual tests developed.

We thank our students for taking part in this study.

Principal

From the Deputy Principals

It was an absolute pleasure and privilege to see the athletic talents of so many of our students on display last Friday. The sportsmanship, skill and dedication was evident in so many ways. A particularly pleasing sight was the final relays of the day where some of the athletes running style was so smooth, they appeared to float – very, very quickly.

Year 10 received their subject selection booklet with information about subjects they may choose to study in Year 11 next year. Year 10 students are encouraged to consult both the UAC website for information entry requirements for university http://www.uac.edu.au/schoollink/year-10.shtml where there is information about facts and myths regarding subject choices, and information about potential careers at http://www.myfuture.edu.au/explore-careers.

In a nutshell, no subject scales well if the student does not do well so it is of critical importance that students play to their strengths when choosing subjects next year. It is also wise to investigate potential career avenues and projected employment demand in their areas of interest.

Year 12 have a busy term ahead and they are asked to remember the “double bell curve” image they were shown in Term 4 last year. This curve shows how at a selective school they are generally well into the far right hand end of the bell curve for ability. Within this tail however, research shows that another bell curve exists. Keeping in perspective the fact that we are a school of very high achievers, students need to be kind to themselves and keep their performance in perspective of the whole state. This is of course based on the assumption that students are applying themselves with due diligence in all their subjects. As a cohort they are a delightful and capable group and we look forward to seeing every student flourish.

Barbara Bannister
(Deputy Principal Years 8, 10, 12)

Years 7, 9 and 11 will be involved in formal assessments in weeks 4 and 5 this term. The National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) will take place during Week 4 for Years 7 and 9. Information for parents from the Board of Studies Teaching and Educational Standards (BOSTES) has been sent home with students this week and further information regarding the timetable and requirements will be provided next week.

To further support Year 11 students, a Half Yearly Examination Week has been introduced, to be held during Week 5. Students have been issued with individual timetables and are expected to arrive at school at least 10 minutes before each examination. Not all courses are being assessed during this week, so students are encouraged to spend the time when they do not have an examination studying, revising or preparing for other assessment tasks either at home or in the Library.

In preparing for examinations and assessment tasks, students are encouraged to consider their strengths and use them to achieve their personal best. The VIA Classification of Character Strengths, from Positive Psychology, is comprised of 24 character strengths that fall under six broad virtue categories: wisdom, courage, humanity, justice, temperance and transcendence. Each one of us possess all 24 of the VIA character strengths in varying degrees making up our own unique profiles. For further information, go to http://www.viacharacter.org/www/Character-Strengths/VIA-Classification.

TUESDAY SCHOOL WORKSHOP DATES IN ROOM 209 OR SCR
UAC – is the University Admissions Centre. Applications to most universities are made through UAC. You will set up a profile in Term 3 and enter your degree preferences in order of degree preference for a cost of approx. $28. UAC will calculate and use your ATAR to place you in the first degree on your list for which you meet the ATAR requirement. It is very important that you list these courses in the order you would like to attend them to avoid being placed in a course that is not your first choice. The UAC site is still taking applications for second semester 2015 so it will update for your applications at the end of July. Information is still applicable but dates on the site are not.

www.uac.edu.au

EAS – Education Access Scheme administered by UAC for students who have been affected by ongoing disadvantage during their senior schooling. There are several categories of disadvantage however they must have been ongoing for a 6 month minimum and students must provide documentary evidence of the circumstances and their effect. Booklets will come out with UAC guides in July but in the meantime information can be found at the UAC website www.uac.edu.au/eas

Bonus Points – Bonus Points will not change your ATAR. They can be issued for a number of reasons and in a number of different ways. Almost every university runs their own program but each university delivers information regarding bonus points via their website so check with the universities to which you wish to apply. Bonus points can also be used in the EAS. Bonus points can be issued for regional students or by regional universities. Students may also be issued bonus points for academic excellence in a degree related subject.

Scholarships – Every university offers its own scholarships. To see what is on offer go to the website of your university of choice, visit them at an Expo or come to a school visit held at lunches this term. UAC also administer Commonwealth Supported places and equity scholarships for Indigenous and disadvantaged students. There are many scholarships ranging from textbooks to accommodation to full degree scholarships at each university. Check how scholarships you are interested in are administered, you will need to apply for some by deadlines but others will be issued automatically if you meet the criteria. Mrs Rixon and Mrs Crebar (Tuesday) can help you with your application. Most scholarship applications are due at the end of September 2015.

Cadetships – Cadetships combine university with employment, usually in business and engineering but increasingly in IT as well. When applying for a cadetship you will need to complete and online application in most instances including your school results in senior years and a reference from the school. You will also need to answer a small number of questions regarding why you are interested in a scholarship, what industry interests you have and why, examples of teamwork/work experience and why they should interview you. Remember that there will be many applications for few positions so think about what the companies are looking for – well thought out applications, commitment, dedication, research, team players, good communicators, people who can manage their time and themselves to meet deadlines. Applications close May 13th for the www.businesscadetships.com.au process and June 12th for the www.etcad.com.au process. ETCAD are engineering and technology cadetships. There are also other companies who offer cadetship programs that are run internally such as Bluescope Steel. A quick google search will find other opportunities. Make sure you give yourself plenty of time to bring in your draft application to your Careers Adviser before submitting it.

UMAT – This is the Undergraduate Medicine and Health Sciences Aptitude Test and is part of the application process for medicine along with ATAR and Interview. The results of this test are weighed heavily in the process. If you think you have an interest in health sciences or are not sure what path you want to take but will be achieving a very high ATAR, it is recommended you sit this test to keep your options open. UMAT in 2015 will be held 29th July 2015 in Sydney however you must register by 5pm 5th June to sit the test. $240 must be paid at the time of registration. More information is on the noticeboard outside the Careers office. http://umat.acer.edu.au

SPORT
GIRLS KNOCKOUT SOCCER
This week the girl’s knockout soccer team played a round three game against Riverside Girls High. In the first half of the game the two teams looked to be equally matched in terms of skill level and fitness. Ella Smith scored the first goal of the game helping to boost team moral. Unfortunately we will not progress through to round four. However, the girls should feel proud of the consistent effort that was maintained in what were very wet conditions.

2015 Athletics Carnival
What an amazing day we had last Friday for the school Athletics Carnival. After making some wet weather back up plans, we thankfully didn’t need to use them. It was wonderful to see so many students at the carnival participating in a variety of events and everyone trying their personal best. Thanks to all the staff for their hard work in making the day run so smoothly and the students who volunteered their time to help out with the many tasks required in running a carnival.

Congratulations to Bligh, who was the winning house, and to the following age champions.

International band tour returns
The MSC touring band group touched down safely on late Monday night from Vienna but are still somewhere on cloud nine after a most spectacular fortnight in Italy and Austria.

The final days saw the group do one of the best performances at the Orangerie, Schoenbrunn Palace in Vienna to an audience of 600, including the Australian ambassador and his wife, some of the bands’ family members from England and Australia, Australian expats and members of various Viennese music societies. Thunderous applause and hearty ‘bravos’ were received, especially after the all-time Austrian favourite, The Radestky March. The Viennese love their music like a national sport and it was a thrill to have them enjoy our school’s jazz and wind and jazz orchestras.

Time to celebrate as a group at the home of a famous German Lieder singers’ beautiful penthouse apartment on Ringstrasse One. Dr Jutta Unkart-
Seifert had spent the day cooking a wonderful 3 course meal for the 60 of us and invited band members to spontaneously entertain us with quiet jazz as we ate (thanks Isaac Arnold, Tom Dowse, Sebastian Gordon and Tim Crow).

The following morning the band members commemorated the 100 Year anniversary of Anzac Day at the joint Australian and New Zealand embassies’ dawn service (looking very smart on formal MSC uniform) and performed one final time in the courtyard of the Summer Palace. Like Rome, Florence, Venice and Salzburg before it, the group had seen and experienced so much in Vienna, a gorgeous city of music.

The tour had fulfilled all hopes of being a magical musical experience for the band members, with their own performances reaching new heights and never-to-be-forgotten musical experiences and venues like the jazz and wind masterclasses, the glorious acoustics of San Stefano church in Florence, the invitation to exclusively sit in on the 3 hour rehearsal of the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra in the famous Musikverein Golden Hall conducted by the marvellous and compelling Italian conductor Riccardo Meti. A universal love of fine music had brought us into contact with generous, gracious and extraordinary conductors, performers and cultural ambassadors in both Italy and Austria.

Paralleling these experiences were the extraordinary art, history and architecture of each of the destinations. Not to be left unmentioned were the impressive volumes of gelato, pizza and schnitzel enjoyed! Each day, Mark Brown reported in on his pedometer readings and most days the group had walked around 10-14 kilometres to make room for more of these treats.

The students were a delightful, coherent group with members coming together across year groups 9-12. On the final night, they were vocal in the thanks to their wonderful conductors, Mark Brown and Tim Crow, the other four MSC adults accompanying them, the bus driver (a genius for driving in difficult circumstances, especially in Rome), the truck driver following us with all the band gear and tour operator Geoff Hayes who had delivered 150% and more on each of the days in the itinerary. The 2015 International tour has inspired and brought treasured memories to all who attended.

Note: We will publish a photo album of tour highlights next week.

Band Competitions dates for diaries
The band program generally enters only one competition per ensemble each year. These are very important team events requiring attendance by all ensemble members. Please remember to put these dates in your diaries and factor them into plans for study and other commitments. These events are well worth inviting family and friends to, to hear the ensembles play at their best.

State Music Camps applications open
The State Music Camps promote excellence in all forms of music making and provide gifted and talented students with extension experiences unavailable within their own school or community.

In addition to this, students and staff have a fantastic time in a unique setting for music education.

Students from NSW Government schools have been attending State Music Camps for more than 60 years. Talented music students join together for one week each year to receive expert tutelage and develop their performance skills. Participants rehearse and perform high quality repertoire culminating in a concert for families and friends on the final night of the camp. Musical activities at camp include participation in a major ensemble (symphony orchestra, symphonic bands, vocal ensembles, rock band and saxophone ensemble) as well as a number of elective ensembles and activities. Elective activities include brass and woodwind ensembles, stage band, jazz.
